

Beej Mantra

Beej mantras are considered to be the most basic mantras because they contain only one syllable. They are known as seed mantras because they are the root of all longer Vedic mantras. When combined with longer mantras the power of a seed mantra increases.

The Mother of all mantras is the single-syllable AUM. This is believed to be the first sound from which all other sounds arise. Other well-known beej mantras include Aim, Hreem, Kleem, Shrim, Trim, Dham. They may be small, but each sound contains many words within itself.

A beej mantra is also attached to each major chakra within the human body.

Root chakra (muladhara) – LAM

LAM is the beej mantra for your root chakra (located at the base of spine). It represents the earth element within you. Chanting LAM while focusing on this chakra helps keep you linked to the earth, the Mother of everything in nature. It offers a sense of security in the world. When this chakra becomes balanced through constant chanting of Lam you feel stable, secure and grounded.

Sacral chakra – (swadisthana) – VAM

VAM is the beej mantra for your sacral chakra (located around your reproductive organs). It represents the water element within you. Chanting VAM while focusing on this chakra helps balance the water element. It allows you to embrace life's challenges and creates openness and trust with others. It also demonstrates appropriately controlled sexuality.

Solar plexus chakra – (manipura) – RAM

RAM is the beej mantra for the solar plexus chakra (located around the navel). It represents the fire element within you. Chanting RAM while focusing on this chakra helps your digestive fire and enhances your power. It helps to eliminate negativity and improves trust in yourself. It is characterised by assertiveness and co-operation.

Heart chakra – (anahata) – YAM

YAM is the beej mantra for the heart chakra (located at the base of the chest). It represents the air element within you. Chanting YAM while focusing on this chakra helps you to open your heart. You only truly begin your inner journey when your actions arise from this chakra. Awakening anahata helps to develop forgiveness, emotional maturity, creativity, compassion and unconditional love towards others.

Throat chakra – (vishuddhi) – HAM

HAM is the beej mantra for throat chakra (located in the neck region). It represents the space element within you. Chanting HAM while focusing on this chakra helps you express yourself and communicate with others. It gives you the courage to speak your truth and is characterised by trust, devotion, and surrender, bringing balance between your thoughts, words and actions.

Third Eye chakra – (agya) – AUM

AUM is the beej mantra for the Third Eye chakra (located between the eyebrows). This chakra is beyond the five elements of nature. It is your 6th sense, and looks inward rather than outward. Chanting AUM while focusing on this chakra helps to awaken your discriminative intellect, inner vision, and higher intuitive wisdom, which arises from your own experiences. It clarifies your purpose and helps connect you to your inner peace and joy. When mastery over this centre is reached, the Mother of all mantras, Aum, is heard within, and connection between a teacher and student no longer requires verbal communication.

Crown chakra – (sahasrara) – SILENCE

There is no seed mantra for the seventh chakra. Accessing this chakra is a consequence of the balance created in the previous six chakras. The practice of chanting the seed mantras is needed to awaken this chakra. There are no words to express the experience of the sahasrara chakra – it can only be accessed through inner silence. It is the ultimate destination of your spiritual journey, and your progress toward this goal is ongoing.

When you have entirely dropped your ego, the Creator graces you with a state of continuous bliss or samadhi – it represents the merging of the individual self and the cosmic self. Your total surrender leads you to ultimate freedom and the permanent loss of fear. Beej mantras play an essential role in this journey.

How to chant beej mantra for chakra balancing?

Sit in a comfortable meditative posture (or on a chair with a straight back) and close your eyes. Take a few breaths to calm yourself. When you are ready to start, exhale completely, hold your breath, focus intensely on the chakra you are balancing, and repeat the beej mantra associated with that chakra:

LAM for muladhara chakra

VAM for swadisthana chakra

RAM for manipura chakra

YAM for anahata chakra

HAM for vishuddhi chakra

AUM for agya chakra

When you can no longer hold your breath, slowly inhale, then relax. Gradually you can increase the number of breaths for each chakra to 3 when you are comfortable.

This practice will create within you a sense of tranquillity and peace if performed mindfully.

As per hindu philosophy, we had many birth & life and we keep on taking birth and die again till we merge into the source, the parmatman. We come and go till all the karma cycle goes on. We are into the existence from the beginning and doing karmas. The karmas never end till we get the fruit of them, either bad or good. What we are doing in this life and what karmas are going to be fruitful in this life from the baggage of karmas can be known using Jyotish(Astrology).

Planets and Karmas In astrology, birth chart or kundali (horoscope) is the blue print of our life we are carrying, which tells about which karmas from the past are going to give fruits in this life and what are the possibilities, deeds we can do in this life. Planets give results according to our own karma but then what is the purpose behind this planetary existence? What is the purpose of astrology if planets (graha) are going to give results only according to our karmas.

These karma always give results which cannot be pacified. So how to lessen the suffering from the bad karmas we did in the past? When these planets will give malefic results, how can one rectify the harmful effects from planets? Is there any solution to this? Yes! We need to increase the positivity to pacify the negativity, It will not be removed but we can do so much positive that positive deeds give more results in comparison to negative. How can we do that?

Seek Blessings – Beej Mantra of Planets We can pray planets by chanting beej mantra of planets, as they have been given the job to give results and make us pay off the karmas. Lets take an example. When someone is angry on us because of our wrong actions and came to whack us. As he entered our home we welcome him with sweet smile and warmth, respect him and pray him like a child, then that person will not react in that manner and infact will be happy by seeing our love towards him. and it may happen that he will bless us instead of harming us.

Same is with planets, each planet has a deity, so if we pray them, chant their beej mantra (as beej mantra has lot of power inside like seeds), surely planets will help us. Astrological texts says these beej mantra of planets pacify all the harmful effects and will bless in a short period of time when chanted properly with faith. Beej mantra of planets are the most powerful of all mantras thats why the chanting of these are recommended by astrologers and jyotishacharya. Do 108 times at a time using mala or rosary.

Surya Beej Mantra

ॐ हां हीं हौं सः सूर्याय नमः।

Om hraam hreem hraum sah suryaaya namah

In Mahadasha of Sun: Chant 6000 times in 40 days.

Who Should Chant

- One whose dasha or antardasha of sun is going on and sun is malefic in the horoscope.
- People having low confidence, low decision making power or low self esteem should chant beej mantra of planet sun.
- People having issues with government or students studying for government services should chant this as sun is significator of government, authority and power.
- Chanting beej mantra of sun activates and balances solar plexus because both are connected. It enhances will power, intellect, clarity and identity.
- To balance the Jatharagni – the fire for life. As sun is heat and solar plexus is the abdominal area, so jatharagni is also a significance of sun. Chanting of sun beej mantra improves jatharagni (fire to sustain, fire to maintain the temperature of body and to transform). Jatharagni is fire responsible of life. Digestive power balances.
- It also represents the samaan vayu as the solar plexus area, abdominal area is of samaan vayu which balances apana and prana. So chanting this beej mantra will also balance the samaan vayu(prana).
- Sun also represents father in vedic astrology so any father related problems like relation with father or some problem to father can be cured by chanting surya beej mantra.

When to Chant

At the time of sunrise and better offer water to God Sun. Start chanting from Sundays or on Sundays. Better to chant daily starting from the Sunday.

Note: Pray lord Vishnu, he the father of this universe.

PLANET MOON (CHANDRA)

Chandra Beej Mantra

ॐ श्रांश्रीं श्रौंसः चंद्राय नमः ।

Om shraam shreem shroum sah chandraya namah

In the Mahadasha of Moon: Chant beej mantra 10000 times in 40 days.

Who Should Chant Chandra Beej Mantra

- Whose Mahadasha or antardasha of moon is going on and moon has some malefic effects.
- Moon/Chandra signifies mind in astrology so any mind related problems or psychological problems like anxiety, distracted mind, depression, mood swings, stress, not being able to concentrate etc show affliction on moon or these are the signs of weak moon. One having these issue should chant moon beej Mantra.
- Moon also denotes mother, nurturing, emotions, feelings and heart. Thus emotional issues like relationships issues, peace of mind, problems related to mother or problems to mother also indicates that affliction (dosha) is present. This mantra gives positive results when chanted properly and pacifies the dosha effects.
- Moon is the planet of feelings and physically this is area of heart where prana vayu resides. Thus prana vayu get balanced on chanting this mantra.
- This is also region of heart chakra and it represents love, compassion, forgiveness and acceptance. When it is not working properly jealousy, depression, dependency arises etc. So chanting this mantra is like giving healing to the chakra which clears all the negative emotions and balances the anahata chakra (heart chakra).

When to Chant

In the evening 108 times daily after sunset or at the time of moon (night time).

Start chanting from Mondays.

Note: If one believes in Shiva he or she should pray to Lord Shiva along with chanting chandra beej mantra. Lord shiva has solved the problems of chandra(Moon) and gave place on his forehead. Goddess Durga is also a deity of planet Moon.

PLANET MARS (MANGAL)

Mangal Beej Mantra

ॐ क्रां क्रीं क्रौं सः भौमाय नमः।

Om kraam kreem kraum sah bhaumaya namah

At The Time Of Mahadasha Of Mangal (Mars): Chant for 7000 times in 40 days.

Who Should Chant Mangal Beej Mantra

- Whose time period (dasha and antardasha) of mars is going on and mars is giving malefic effects or weakly posited.
- Mars is the warrior, the senapati in the planetary system according to vedic astrology thus it indicated the courage, valour, power and authority and protection. So if some one is not able to take step and not able to be courageous enough, having protection related issues like facing accidents etc should chant this mangal beej mantra.
- If mars is badly placed, it may result in anger in the native, dominating nature, nagging others unnecessarily, showcasing the power and ego issues. To improve this condition mars mantra is helpful.
- Mars represents protection and defense but if it is adversely affected then it destroys rather than giving protection. Both sun and mars are hot planets but mars fire is not warmth, it is more aggressive. So if giving bad results in horoscope can give injuries from fire etc.
- Problems related to blood or bone marrow may arise if Mangal is not beneficial in a kundali.
- People having mars in 1st, 2nd, 4th, 7th, 8th & 12th house of a natal chart from lagna or moon, except in own sign or the sign of exaltation should chant Mangal beej Mantra to pacify its bad effects.
- Mars is red in color so the root chakra is and except this too Mars relates to root chakra in many others ways. It has the connection with earth similar to root chakra as mars is Bhumi Putra (Son of Earth). So root chakra (mooladhara chakra) problems like blockages or over activeness can be solved by the chanting of mangal mantra.
- In astrology, Mars is the lord of first and eighth house, eighth house is significator of excretion organ, so with the apana vayu which pushes the waste downwards thus to balance apana vayu too, chant this beej mantra.

When to Chant

In the morning. Start from Tuesdays.

Note: If one believes in Lord Hanuman he or she should pray to him along with chanting mangal beej mantra. Lord Hanuman is the deity of Mars, gives strength, courage and removes all the difficulties from the life. Bhagwan Kartikeya is also a deity of planet Mars.

PLANET MERCURY (BUDDHA)

PLANET JUPITER (BRIHASPATI OR GURU)

Brihaspati Beej Mantra

ॐ ग्रां ग्रीं ग्रौं सः गुरुवे नमः ।

Om graam greem graum sah gurave namah

At the time of Jupiter Mahadasha: Chant for 16000 times in 40 days.

Who Should Chant

- When dasha or antardasha period of jupiter is going on, chanting its beej mantra is beneficial.
- In vedic astrology jupiter is Guru the master of devas. He is a teacher store house of knowledge, wisdom and a well wisher. But when it gives malefic results then wisdom power and pure thoughts got afflicted. Native becomes egoistic thinking what he is doing is correct. As Jupiter is a master nobody can teach a guru as when afflicted Jupiter himself considers the greatest of all. Wisdom will not work or work in wrong direction. So chant this mantra to attain wisdom and prosperity in all direction.
- In a horoscope, other than wisdom guru is the significator of luck, wealth, and children. So chanting beej mantra of Jupiter will pacify the malefic effects and brings good luck, wealth and children.
- Brihaspati is also responsible for marriage in a native's chart. Chanting this mantra will help in marriage related issues and one will get spouse if he is single.
- Crown chakra will also get effects of malefic Jupiter because crown chakra represents the connection to the source of higher knowledge. Chant of jupiter beej mantra will balance the chakra and one will be able to get wisdom from higher sources.
- Jupiter also represents liver, if one has enlarged liver then in his or her kundali jupiter has some maleficence. This mantra will protect one from these issues.

When To Chant

Above is the complete guidance about beej mantra of nine planets. From the right mantra, deity, when to chant, what are the benefits of chanting or meditation on these beej mantra of 9 planets and special notes, all is shared. Will share more information about the other mantra of nine planets in future blogs.

Mantra Therapy is the positive practice of concentration on a particular sound. 'Mana' means the mind and 'Tra' means vibration. Any sound or word that creates positive vibrations in mind is called a Mantra. Sound is a form of energy made up of vibrations or wavelengths. Certain wavelengths have the power to heal, others are capable of shattering glass.

Repetition of Mantras in meditation, will bring individual to a higher state of consciousness. The practice of Mantra leads to concentration of the mental power at a particular point and then allowing it to be equally distributed over the body so that one experiences mental bliss. The mind feels relaxed and all systems of the human body function in a normal manner.

Scientists have proved that chanting a Mantra can cure many if our physical and mental problems. About 98% of our problems are psychosomatic. 'Psycho' means the mind & 'Somatic' means the body. Most of our problems start from the mind. Too much of stress leads to high blood pressures, nausea, dizziness, migraine, acidity, eczema, respiratory diseases and many more.

The practice on Mantra liberates the mind from all the suffering, irritability, over attachment, ego, lust, and helps one enjoy the spiritual bliss. By chanting a Mantra one feels absolutely blissful and relaxed in the mind. During meditation, we always use a Mantra and try to get rid of all the thoughts that are present in the mind. Mantra can be chanted internally (In the mind, Inaudible) or externally (by chanting loudly, audible).

The internal Mantras are generally small and are also called beej mantras or seed mantras. They are powerful vibrations having great healing powers and are on wavelength far beyond physical sound. In meditation, use the internal mantra as barrier of thoughts and allow the mantra to take the place of thoughts in mind.

This simple technique of reducing of all kinds of thoughts in the mind is a very powerful technique to reduce stress. Consider your Mantra as your guide and friend. Take the help of your Mantra whenever you feel down or low and life, when you are angry lonely, afraid, undecide or in trouble.

Your Mantra will help you increase your will power, sharpen your memory and motivate you, thereby making you more confident person and a better human being. Many patient have completely recovered from their sickness by chanting mantras. Even when the disease is incurable, the patient's experience great relief by chanting a Mantra.

What is beej mantra?

A seed when sown grows into a fruitful tree, like that Beej Mantra is a fun of shakti. There are Various Beej Mantras which are an important part of Mantras and each Beej mantra has its own power and when mixed with mantras adds extra power to the traits of that mantra.
